Press Release – For Immediate Release

Metismo Announce Bedrock Update at JavaOne

Today Metismo announced that they will be exhibiting at JavaOne in San Francisco on 1st – 5th June 2009 where they will be announcing the latest release of Bedrock as well as releasing details of a new licencing option for startup companies.

“While we issue regular updates of Bedrock on an on-going basis, we have some exciting new platforms that we will be announcing at Java One” said John Chasey, CEO of Metismo.

The new ‘Indie’ licencing option is targeted at individuals and startup companies and complements the standard site licence approach used by current Bedrock customers.

“We have had many approaches from individuals, students and startup companies who were very eager to make use of the Bedrock technology but for whom our normal site licence wasn’t viable,” commented John Chasey. “The new Indie licence will provide a starting point for those developers before they migrate onto our standard licence.”

Bedrock’s rapid production environment and device database enable you to prototype, develop and target your application to hundreds of handsets quickly and easily. Its cross compiler converts your Java source code to native C++, with OpenGL ES support, simultaneously deploying your product to Apple iPhone, Android, BREW, Symbian, Blackberry, Windows Mobile and more.
